

Drum up interest in music at a young age!

Founded by Dublin woman Carmel Dunne, Ceol Ireland is an organisation which offers a new and innovative way of teaching music to primary school children called the Giusti Approach.

It focuses on the development of musical fluency, teaching children to listen, speak, read and write the language of music.

Ceol Ireland works with more than 160 teachers who teach 4,500 children across Ireland.

Teachers who had once been fearful of teaching music were now thriving, through the use of Ceol lesson plans and materials, and through the regular professional development sessions.

It costs €15 per child per annum. For more information, call 087-903 6139 or log onto www.ceolireland.ie.
